

Andy Mirkovic

Andy has been a teacher for over 30 years and has an extensive experience of senior leadership.

He taught in mainstream education for over 20 years before moving into the alternative education sector, where he now works as the Head of School at Chessbrook Education Support Centre. He has a wealth of experience and insights into both mainstream education and alternative provision. He works closely with the Alban Teaching School Hub as a strategic Lead Partner and also works with Best Practice Network as a facilitator for their suite of NPQ qualifications.

Andy currently sits on the Standards & Curriculum committee.